

Employee Salary Analysis Report

This report analyzes the correlation between employee salaries and factors such as position, experience, and education. The dataset contains salary data for 10 employees from different departments and roles.

Correlation Heatmap:

Salary Distribution by Position:

Conclusion:

1. Higher experience generally correlates with higher salaries.
2. Data Scientists and Software Engineers tend to have higher salaries compared to HR roles.
3. Education level impacts salary, with PhD holders earning the highest in the dataset.